

Mr. Romax CHU
Senior Technology Marketing Manager
Nokia (H.K.) Limited

Romax Chu is currently heading the Technology Marketing activities for Nokia and based in Hong Kong. Romax joined Nokia since early 1995 in Nokia Australia focusing on the deployment of radio access network and operator network management solution. Romax moved to Hong Kong during 1997 and involved in earlier development of mobile internet network solution. In late 1999, Romax took up a role in WCDMA solution marketing in Hong Kong, and participated in various aspect of operator infrastructure business on fostering the mobile packet infrastructure development. During 2002, Romax has moved his effort on promoting mobile applications from both the perspective on network infrastructure and mobile devices. And in mid 2003, Romax has dedicated his effort on mobile devices technologies, especially in the area of mobile enablers and mobile applications.

Romax holds a Bachelor of Engineering degree, a Bachelor of Information Technology degree, a Master of Engineering Science degree and a Master of Business Administration degree.