◆ Business Activities

VSNL International, the international arm of Videsh Sanchar Nigam Limited ("VSNL"), promotes communications solutions to the global carrier and enterprise markets by leveraging extensive undersea and satellite network capabilities in India, Asia Pacific and around the globe. As one of the largest players in the Asia Pacific telecom industry, VSNL International's Global Network spans across 4 continents and comprises major ownership in 206,356km of terrestrial network fiber and subsea cable.

VSNL International promotes communications solutions to the global carrier and enterprise markets by leveraging their extensive undersea and satellite network capabilities in India and around the globe. VSNL International offers the greatest diversity for connectivity services to India, making it the first Indian truly global telecommunications company. This is coupled with a powerful domestic network that covers over 300 cities in India and a comprehensive portfolio of managed services that makes VSNL International the most reliable provider of solutions to, from and within India.

VSNL International owns and operates TGN, which offers unparalleled connectivity solutions on the Trans-Atlantic, Trans-Pacific and intra-European routes. This multi-terabit system allows VSNL to offer carriers and enterprises connectivity from speeds of 64K to 10Gbps and provides commercial flexibility using features like global capacity portability.

Following acquisition of Teleglobe in February 2006, VSNL extended its global reach to over 240 countries and territories with more than 275 PoPs in 25 countries and access to 5 geo-stationary satellites through over 30 dedicated earth stations.

VSNL International aims to provide a flexible and scalable commercial engagement model to global carriers and enterprises. This philosophy is reflected in several aspects of VSNL's business model such as Global Account Managers, simplified contract process, one-stop shop for India and non-India services, multi-currency and multi-location billing and competitive Service Level Agreements on end-to-end services.

VSNL International is a 100% subsidiary of VSNL comprising of over 45 legal entities, and has its registered headquarters in Singapore with regional offices in North America, Europe and Asia.
